WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.-After announcing to day that six subminrines had "probably" been sunk in a massed attack on a fleet of merchant ships under convoy off the this afternoon declared that only one U boat had been destroyed. In his revised statement Secretary Daniels said:

"My attention has just been sailed to a serious error made in transcribing the report of the attack made on the Westwego and other vessels. I mave the report to the press this morning exactly as it was given to me, saying that two of the steamers attacked were sunk and probably all of the submarines were lost."

"The cablegram, I now and, stated that 'one' of the submafines was probably tost."

The Navy Department received engugement three days agos Why it was that the error in ered is not explained.

Polowing is the text of first announcement assed by Mr. Daniels:

."The Navy Department received report from Paris which states that the steamer Westwego reported that while crusing with several other ships was attacked a mased force of six submarines off the coast of France on the 5th of September, the result of this attack being that two of the steamers attacked were sunk and probably all of the submarines were lost."

The Navy Department deduced from the report that Germany has adopted the definite policy of massing her U boats for attack, apparenthaving learned of the recent announcement that American ships were going in groups under convoy. The merchant fleet of which the Westwego was one, was en route to Europe from the United States when attacked. The vessels were under convoy, but no details of the fight were included in the reports received. No loss of life was reported nor were the names of the two ships sonic included in the despatch.
